Ancient Capital Jottings-Opening of the Public Schools-Meeting of the Warwick Supervisors-A Good Balance-Personal and General. WILLIAMSBURG, VA., September 30 .-(Special.)-The public schools opened to-day with a full attendance, and Superintendent Ro. T. Armistead visited the white school, and, after witnessing its organization, made an address to the pupils and teachers, in which he gave some sound and practical advice, and expressed the hope that before the beginning of another school year we would have a new and attractive school building for the white children.

The Treasurer of York county settled with the Board of Supervisors last week, and a balance was struck in favor of the board, amounting to $3,100. A large number of accounts were passed. and the board adjourned to meet some time this month. There were a number of persons in Yorktown during the session of the board, many of whom ex-pressed themselves as being exceedingly anxious to have the legislative candidates visit the lower portions of York county (Poquosin District), at as early a day as possible.

As possible.

Mr. Gabriel Himmelwright, a member of the York County Board of Supervisors, has returned from a visit of several weeks to friends in Buckingham.

FOOT-BALL

On Saturday, the 5th of October, the Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College foot-ball team will play the University of Virginia team on the latter's grounds. It is probable that a goodly number will go from here with the team, all of whom here to see good same. number will go from here with the team, all of whom hope to see a good game. On Friday the mercury took a decided tumble here and we missed having a heavy froat by only two degrees. As it was there was froat in some near localities, though no damage was done. New students and appointments of new students come in to the college every day.

A DICKENSON TRAGEDY.

Deputy-Sheriff Sutherland Shoots Himself-Political.

DWALE, DICKENSON COUNTY, VA. September 30 .- (Special.) - Your correspondent has just learned of a tragic affair which occurred in the vicinity of Bucu, this county, on Thursday evening, Deputy Sheriff James Sutherland fatally shot himself in the left breast with a large pistol. The act was a voluntary one. One Mr. Counts was the only witness, and reports that he and Sutherland were picking up apples in an orchard when the latter held his pistel in his right hand, with the muzhis pistol in his right hand, with the muz-gle pointed at his own breast, and said, "See here!" Counts saw there was some-thing wrong, and rushed toward Suther-land, exciaiming, "Don't do that," but before he could interfere Sutherland fired, the bull taking effect as above stated. Sutherland was not dead at last ac-counts; but it is said that he cannot pos-sibly live. He is a way was and had counts; but it is said that he cannot possibly live. He is a yeah man, and had only been married a very few years.

Herman Mullins, who has been an Independent-Republican candidate for the House of Delegates, has now declined to run. He is just from Wise, and reports that his friends will give their support to Sutherland, the Democratic nominee, it is believed that this will aid the election of Sutherland, as Mullins's friends are feeling rather sore because the party would not recognize his claim.

Eastern Short Notes.

ONANCOCK, VA., September 30.—(Special).—Captain Henry L. Crockett's schooner from Onancock took a carge of sweet potatoes to Baltimore last week.

After the potatoes had been sold one of the deckhands, a negro, formerly from North Carolina, broke into the captain's cabin and carried off about $60, that being the amount for which the potatoes had been sold. The thief has not yet been captured.

DROPPED THE PLUNDER.

Saturday night some thieves entered the house of Mr. Ira Hopkins, near Tasley station, and were making off with a bureau drawer, containing among other things about $150 in currency, when Mr. Hopkins heard a noise and went in pursuit of them, causing them to drop the drawer with its contents and take to the woods. The persons who attempted the theft evidently had some knowledge of the house and the habits of the occupants. The night before some unknown persons scaled the outer walls of the county [all and attempted to release some desperate criminals confined in the jail. They broke two locks on the outer doors, but finding the inner locks too much for them they desisted from their undertaking. DROPPED THE PLUNDER.

A DANGEROUS POSITION.

Narrow Escape from Being Kicked to Death-Personal.

BERRYVILLE, VA., September 30 .-(Special.)-Mr. Charles Fritts, living near White Post, had a narrow escape from a terrible death one day last week. He was breaking a colt by driving her to a buggy, when the colt became frightened at some object on the roadside, and began kicking, and continued to kick, until her heels demolished the dashboard en-tirely. Mr. Fritts, finding that all efforts to quiet her were unavailing, attempted to jump over the wheel, and, slipping, fell, and was caught between the axle feil, and was caught between the axle and singletree. He hung in that position head downward, and almost touching the ground, while the colt continued to kick, fortunately, she kicked so high that she kicked above Mr. Fritts. Had she kicked 6 inches lower Mr. Fritts would have been struck by her heels, and his death would have been almost inevitable. As it was, the colt soon disengaged herself from the buggy, and ran on down the road, while Mr. Fritts crawled out from his perdous position, unhurt. position, unhurt. Goodwin H. STRUGGLING WITH ADVERSITY. STRUGGLING WITH ADVERSITY.

This association, founded seventeen years ago, and having as its first president the Hon. A. H. H. Stuart, in the beginning was thought to be doing a big business. Lately, however, it has been struggling with adversities, and its failure occasions very little surprise. Before making the assignment the association made an arrangement by which all of its policy holders, without distinction or prejudice on account of years or infirmity, are entitled to reinsurance in the National Life Insurance Association, of Hartford, Conn., which later company is a mutual assessment company, making a specialty of reinsurance.
